

Practical Intelligence-driven investigations

Use pro-active, intelligence-driven investigation techniques in a modern day law enforcement environment!

Years of experience, unique skills and a modern approach to investigations are required to be effective in an ever changing investigation environment. Different skills are needed for today's challenges.

Why should you attend this course?

Because it's an intensive, interactive and practical course with a modern-day approach which enables you as an investigator to apply unconventional investigative techniques in today's complex environment.

Highly skilled and experienced presenters will facilitate opportunities to learn and develop knowledge, specialised skills and trade craft to enable you to:

- identify the need for intelligence-driven investigations
- develop threat and target analysis
- establish and develop intelligence networks
- gather, process and utilize information
- conduct basic surveillance
- apply infiltration strategies

The training methodology is highly interactive. The activities presented during the intervention are designed to encourage dialogue, stimulate critical and independent thinking and allow participants to gain confidence by demonstrating what they already know and have acquired.

Practical assignments will be conducted by course participants and assessed by the facilitators. Skills practice will be conducted in a constructive and positive atmosphere where attention is focused on building confidence and competence.

Your learning facilitators

Kurt Heydenrych and Gideon Jones have extensive experience in the field of intelligence and project driven investigations both in the SAPS, Directorate of Special Operations and the private sector and are officially certified trainers in this field. This course is offered on NQF level 5.

A 5 day interactive and intensive course designed to help you:

- Apply intelligence-driven investigations
- Be a more effective investigator

Who should attend?

All investigators and their supervisors!

What other participants said:
A different approach often leads to a better result

Up to 20 persons allowed for best results!
Register now!

R7250
ex VAT

Registration closing date:
15 February
2012